Summary of the Activity

Our institute organized a three day workshop of Bandhani Making from 2nd June, 2017 to 4th June, 2017 at Umiya Campus. In the inaugural function the president of K.V.C. Education Trust, the speaker, the Principal, the faculty members and the participants were present.

In the first session, the speaker gave a brief introduction of Bandhani as a specialty of Gujarat to the participants. He also described How Bandhani is made? What is resist dyeing ? What is tie dye ? etc.

In the next session, he explained the common fabrics used for Bandhani that is cotton, silk, wool and malma. He even described how is it dyed? Next day, the speaker demonstrated the practical work. He discussed all the steps. In the first step he discussed about the preparation of the fabric. In the second step he discussed about the printing. In the next step, he showed the tips of tying Bandhani. In the thumb and forefinger of the right hand lead the thread while the left hand thumb presses the material together. Students had also practically done this work.

In the last day, the speaker gave the knowledge of Dyeing. After tying is completed, the cloth is washed in a hot water solution to clear the cloth. Then for the process of dyeing, the fabric immersed in the dye-solution. After dyeing the cloth is washed gently with soft water to remove any extra dye or impurities. Then, the cloth is left to dry for several hours before it is ready to be sold. The tied cloth is stored without removing the ties. Thus, the speaker demonstrated all the steps.

In the concluding session, the speaker enlightened the participants with interactive session. The participants also got the practical knowledge of how to make Bandhani, which will be helpful to them to establish Small Scale Business in future.
